REPORT.

IN former Reports it has been our custom to conclude our statements of the circumstances of our Mission with grateful acknowledgments of those contributions, which we had received in the course of each past year, and with renewed appeals for the continuation of the liberality of our Christian Friends upon which we always depended for the supply of a considerable share of the yearly income of our Western India Mission. And, God be thanked, we have never yet appealed in vain to the sympathy of our English Christian Brethren in this country.

This year we must deviate from our established order and commence with a plain statement of the affairs of our Mission household, for the purpose and with the hope of exciting our old and tried friends, liberal, exceedingly liberal, as they have proved themselves hitherto, to still greater exertions during the year 1848, and of inducing to some exercise of extraordinary benevolence others, who have hitherto neglected or forgotten us amidst the crowd of mendicant Brethren who ordinarily apply to them, and who are equally importunate, stronger in national or individual claims, and otherwise worthier, it may be, than ourselves, of their patronage.

We have hitherto been more than satisfied with the liberality displayed towards our Mission, by our English Friends and Brethren, who, although taxed by their own churches and their own Missions in this country, have found enough love in their hearts and enough money in their pockets to supply us with more than eight thousand rupees every year since 1839.

But unless we obtain this year a much larger amount of contributions from friends in India, we shall not only be reduced to very great difficulties with regard to our own personal, we do not say comforts, but necessities, but also be obliged to break up parts of our Mission Establishment, which would be a great blow and discouragement to our native congregations and great joy and triumph to the enemies around us, who have hitherto watched our progress with uneasiness and sometimes witnessed our triumph with dismay.

In the last year the total expenditure of our Mission, consisting of 25 Brethren and 16 Sisters employed on 11 Mission Stations in the Southern Mahratta, the Canarese and Malabar Provinces, and on the Neilgherries, has been Rupees 55,407.

We may perhaps, under the blessing of God, and with a great effort of reduction, bring the expenditure of our European Agency down to Rupees 21500; leaving for each person (not reckoning sixteen children) on an average Rupees 500 per annum, or some 40 rupees per mensem, and we may be enabled to defray the expenses of the rest of the Mission with 23,500 Rupees *

Still the lowest sum which may carry us through the year is Rupees 45,000, that is Rs. 13,000 more than what our Committee have promised to give us, if they can.

We absolutely require for the very existence of our Mission the sum of Rupees.....45,000

Our Committee have promised..... Rs. 32,000

But we have much reason to fear that they will not be able to send us the whole sum promised.

This would leave a balance to be covered by contributions from Friends in India of at least Rs 13,000—45,000

In former years our Society have given us the whole of the above sum and more than this. But their circumstances have during the last year undergone a very great change.

In the year 1846 our Committee, in reliance on the constant and gradually increasing support, which they were receiving from old and new friends of their Mission in Germany and Switzerland, ventured further than ever. They sent a number of Brethren to their Western Africa Mission on the Gold Coast, to our own Mission in Western India, and to Dacca in Bengal, and at the same time commenced a new Mission to the Chinese. But instead of receiving, according to their expectations, a larger sum during the last year in proportion to the extension of their operations, they have had another serious deficit, the principal causes of which are the scarcity of the preceding year, which has heavily fallen upon those, who are the principal supporters of Missions in Germany and Switzerland, viz. the middle and poorer classes, and the political commotions by which Switzerland has been shaken during the last year. These two causes are not likely soon to yield to a return of peace and prosperity, and thus our Society has been overtaken by a storm at a time, when every sail, which their vessel would possibly carry, had been set.

Under these circumstances it is that our Committee have been forced to withdraw from us one third of their former yearly contributions (and they may not be able to give us even so much as the remainder) and that we, in consequence, are under the necessity of making a special appeal to all Friends of Missions in India for an extraordinary tax upon their benevolence and liberality in behalf of a large Mission just beginning to feel its strength and to have presentiments of coming victories, which unless powerfully succoured during the present pressure, may sustain a serious check, perhaps a defeat never to be repaired.

Our Committee have requested us to tell them frankly, if what they can spare for our Western India Mission be sufficient for its support; and if we find it insufficient, to consult among ourselves, and to lay propositions before them as to the best plan of contracting the Mission as far as may be necessary in order to establish the due proportion between its income, now to be reduced by one third, and its expenditure.

After a searching investigation and very mature deliberation we have come to this result:—

1. That our Indian Mission has been enlarged by our Committee beyond their means of supporting it, and that no self-denial on the part of the Missionary body, can be successful in the attempt to carry on the Mission in its present extent and efficiency with the means promised by our Committee.

2. That it is our duty to use our utmost endeavours to obviate the breaking up of any part of the Mission, now established and working, and to prevent a retreat from any position hitherto taken up in the progress of our work.

3. That we would much rather advise our Committee to see, if they cannot induce other Missionary Societies, richer than themselves, to relieve them of some of the eleven Stations, which now depend upon the support of the Basle Society, and declare our willingness to be so transferred to the care and authority of any Evangelical Missionary Society to whom our Committee may choose to surrender any of their Stations with the Brethren engaged in its labour.

This is the substance of the declaration which we have given to our Committee in answer to their Circular, adverted to, which is dated the 21st. September 1847.

We hope that our esteemed and beloved Committee will no sooner be fully informed of the exact state of the affairs of our Mission, than they will coincide with our views and cordially assist us in our endeavours to preserve, if possible, the whole of the German Evangelical Mission in Western India, even at the price of detaching some parts of it from the Society by which the whole Mission, in the course of thirteen years has been established in its present extent. May the Lord grant, that our hopes and prayers may be fulfilled to the glory of His Name.

It remains now for the Friends of our Mission, yea and for all true Friends of Missions to see lest this part of the Camp of Protestant Missions in India suffer detriment. It is much easier to preserve strength and life, than to restore, what is once lost. We have hitherto stood our ground and in the name of Christ gained some battles; we have settled on a dozen stations. Shall we be beaten, driven away, triumphed over, for want of provisions and ammunition?

We ask for no comforts. We shall be content with very little for ourselves, but we cannot dissolve our Boarding Schools, stop our presses, dismiss our Catechists and Schoolmasters. If we are forced by absolute necessity to submit to such changes, then we must confess ourselves vanquished, and shall become like soldiers retreating from a lost field.

It is the interest of every real Friend of Missions, we may say in particular of every Missionary in the South of India, to prevent this. If we are defeated, the enemy will rejoice and feel stronger everywhere; if we stand our ground and overcome our difficulties instead of being overcome by them, it will be another victory gained for our common cause, and it will appear to many that there is more strength than they have supposed in the general Brotherhood of Christians.

We say therefore with some courage, and clearly conscious of the goodness of our cause, to all who may read this appeal:—Consider, Brethren, what you may have the power to do for the German Evangelical Mission in South Western India, during its time of trouble.

Within a twelve month we trust to the goodness of the Lord to see our Mission extricated from its pressing difficulties, partially separated it may be from its parent stock, yet existing in unbroken strength and continuing to do its work faithfully and joyfully. During this time of transition, while the resources of our Society at home are unexpectedly and considerably diminished, we lay boldly claim to some extraordinary effort of your Christian love and liberality, and hope that we shall not have raised our voice in vain. May the Lord enlarge your hearts, and may by our trials and difficulties, His name be glorified! Amen.

A short sketch may serve this time instead of an extended annual Report. It is not long since the publication of our last report and we are anxious to present a plain view of our Mission intelligible to every reader at first sight.

There are three Stations in the province of Canara, four in the Southern Mahratta Country, three in Malabar, and one on the Neilgheries.

N.B.—Br. Lehner with his wife and children is on his way to Europe.

*In addition to this number, there are 150 in the English Congregation.

A comparison with the last Report will show a steady increase of the Mission on the older stations. If the number of years, since the first establishment of the Mission be compared with the number of converts, its success will appear very considerable; if the number of converts be contrasted with that of the European brethren engaged in the Mission, the result of the labours of so many will seem to be insignificant. But it must be borne in mind that a greater number of our Brethren have only been a very short time in active service, and that most of our stations have only recently been established. Our Mission resembles an orchard planted in successive years. The few older station-trees begin to bear fruit, and if the younger trees follow their example, good harvests are to be expected.

Mangalore. We have been sorely tried by the conduct of several members of the congregation, whom we have been forced to exclude from Church communion. Also one of the eight youths, who had been received into the Catechist class, had to be deprived of his privilege on account of grievous sins. Mrs. Greiner has been obliged to seek a change of climate for herself and children, on the Neilgherries, on account of ill health. Twenty four adult persons and ten children of the congregation have been baptized. Three Catechumeni are under instruction.

The Catechist class have gone through their appointed course of Study. Some of the elder boarders have made themselves useful as weavers. The plan laid down last year has been adhered to in the whole Institution. Br. Hoch has taken charge of the schools in the town, English and Canarese. He spends the greater part of every day in the schools. These schools have been very liberally supported by Messrs. W. Lavie and F. Anderson, and by other friends of the Mission residing at Mangalore.

Mulki. Br. Ammann has also this year spent most of his time and strength in preaching in all the villages of the country surrounding his station. Two adult persons are preparing for baptism. A few members of the congregation have gone to Mangalore and taken their children with them. Only four children remain therefore in Mrs. Ammann's School.

Honore. Br. Lehner had cheerfully and in good hope recommenced his labours at Honore, when on the 20th October he was seized by a violent bilious disorder, which eventually forced him to leave the country. He is on his way to Germany round the Cape. Christian, the Catechist, has to come Mangalore and taken charge of the lower classes in the Boarding School under Br. Metz.—Br. Deggeller has gone to supply Br. Lehner's place until further orders from our Committee. Silas, one of Br. Greiner's Catechists, has taken Christian's place at Honore.

Dharwar. The health of the Mission family has been tolerable. The Brethren have continued their Canarese and English Sunday services, their street and bazaar preaching, and their excursions in the surrounding country. Two Tamil converts have been baptized, one of them, an old woman, died soon after her baptism in faith and hope. Five Tamil Catechumeni receive regular instruction. A Linga priest has been with the Brethren for some time. He seems to be a serious and sincere enquirer after truth. There are also some other signs of the approach of a better day for the Mission. Some schools have been discontinued for want of funds.

Hubly. On this station the first stir towards life has taken place. A former scholar of one of the Mission Schools, a youth of between 16 and 17 years of age, had for some time refused to take part in idolatrous ceremonies with his people. Having been ill-treated by his elder brothers, and threatened with their vengeance if he went again to the Missionaries, he came on the 13th December to the Brethren and declared that he wished to be received by, and to stay with them, having determined no more to worship idols, but to serve the living God. All the entreaties, promises, threats and intrigues of his relations have been in vain. He has remained firm. The schools were deserted for a time, but begin to fill again. The Brethren have been diligent as itinerant preachers throughout the country. They have unexpectedly met with men, yea with priests, who had attentively read christian books and acquired considerable knowledge.

Bettigherry. The Brethren have continued their work as usual, spending much of their time in familiar intercourse with the people. In August a Linga priest made his appearance. He had come from some distance. He made very careful enquiry into the doctrine preached by the Brethren. At last he stayed to learn. On Christmas day he was baptized. His baptism has created great sensation at Bettigherry and elsewhere. The Brethren hope that he may be the forerunner of a large company of believers. Some schools have been stopped on account of the late news from Basle.

Malasamudra. The small congregation has increased this year, a Tamil family having been added to it by baptism. The colonists have been shaken out of their security by the sicknesses and deaths of some of their fellows. May the chastisement of the Lord bear fruit. A tailor's family was dismissed on account of a relapse into idolatry, which they had promised to forsake on entering the Colony. The sugar manufacture is prospering and has yielded considerable profit to the Mission.

Cannanore. Br. Hebich has as usual visited the great heathen festivals in the neighbourhood and continued preaching in the bazaars and streets as well as in the Chapel; in the latter place, he has served an English as well as a Native congregation. The chapel has been considerably enlarged, upwards of One thousand Rupees having been contributed for the purpose by members of the English congregation. Besides this sum, upwards of 2000 Rupees have been given to the Mission by the European Brethren attending the Chapel. The native congregation has grown considerably, fifteen adult persons having been baptized. Both the English and native congregation have towards the end of the year been stirred up in an unusual manner. Many have found grace to confess their sins and to turn to the Lord with their whole heart. His name be praised.

Tellicherry. All the Brethren have had grace to work without any serious interruption. Mrs. Gundert alone has suffered in health and has gone to the Neilgherry Station for a change of air. This has been a happy year for the Mission. The revival which commenced at Cannanore communicated itself also to this Station. Many souls have been shaken out of slumber and death by the Spirit of God. A considerable number of boarders, boys and girls, were baptized in October and November. Also on the out-stations of Chombala and Aujercandy, several souls have found grace and life. The Brethren have continued to preach in connection with their regular visitations of the different schools. Several preaching tours have been undertaken. Some of the youths in the Seminary give hope that they will become useful workmen in the service of the Mission. Some others have been apprenticed to trades.

Calicut. This station also has shared in the spiritual awakening of the two other Malayalam Stations. Many hearts have been touched by the Spirit of God, many have confessed their sins and exhibit in their daily walk the fruits of a lively faith in Christ Jesus. Others have left us or have been excluded from Church fellowship. A house for the girls institution has been erected. The expense has, for the greater part, been defrayed by friends who have very liberally assisted us. The Nayadees exercise our patience and faith very much. It is very difficult to train them to regularity and order. A lady in Switzerland has made the Mission a present of her jewels for the purpose of assisting us in our endeavours to find employment for some of our converts. May others do likewise and lighten our cares in this respect.

Neilgherries. This station has been strengthened by the accession of Br. Bühler from Europe and Br. Moerike from the low country, where his health had failed.

For the present Kateru is occupied by two of the Brethren, while the third is stationed at Kotagherry, where a house has been acquired which is now repaired for the use of the Mission.

Br. Weigle has spent the greater part of his time in literary labours, the translation of the Scriptures and of other books, for the use of the Canarese Mission at large.

The whole expense of the Neilgherry Mission has hitherto been defrayed by the generous patron who first proposed to our Committee the plan of establishing a Mission on these Hills.

The Brethren who live at Kateru are studying the dialect of the Badaga, go about preaching and visiting the villages, and superintend a small school of their own and a large one established at Kaity.

A Mission on the Neilgherry Hills has peculiar advantages as far as the climate is concerned, but also peculiar difficulties arising from the peculiar character of the inhabitants of these Hills. A great point has been gained by the establishment of a large and well frequented school at Kaity. May the Lord bless the labours of His servants, hear their prayers and turn the hearts of many!

Mrs. Gundert from Tellicherry and Mrs. Greiner with her children from Mangalore have for a season taken up their abode with the Brethren. All have derived great benefit from their stay in this delightful climate.
